

“This block represents my experience of being at school one spring day when a car came up and took the girl away. She sat in the car all by herself. The white square is the school we went to which was white. The next two squares represent the sunny day. Underneath, the black squares represent the car and she is in the middle, standing by herself. The bottom row represents the huge yard we had at the school.”

- Dixie Shilling